

What to Believe

Music by Keith Herbert and Lyrics by Keith Herbert and Hannah Herbert-Hunt

CASSIE

What's this I'm feeling
Something deep revealing for the first time

His voice, his attention
My fear and apprehension to make him mine

Why was I so insecure
Never felt right to me, so hard to breathe
Was it my pride, or was he immature
I was unsure what to believe

He was here, I didn't see
I was lost, it was me, I was so wrong
He makes me laugh, he makes me shiver
He's mine to take, he's been the giver all along

There putting me in his plan
An open hand from a gentle man
Here all my doubts start to fade
He's here to stay, I'm not afraid

I'm not alone, we can begin
I know we won't pretend
My heart says to believe in him

Freddy stood firmly to give me protection
He knew he might never receive my affection
I thought without choices I'd end up alone
He boldly persisted and found us a home, he found us a home

When there is romance without any future love and affection are not guaranteed
Others found cosmic and promised devotion I set my defense to avoid what I need Spontaneous wonders were all Freddy hoped for and not a commitment or something we planned
I need to stop falling and let myself land

Why was I so insecure
Never felt right to me, so hard to breathe
Was it my pride, or was he immature

I was unsure what to believe

I'm not alone, I've found what I need
He's shown what we can achieve
I know that he believes in me
